Global Peace Index Ranking 2022

The Global Peace Index

The Global Peace Index has developed a way to measure peace using a broad range of indicators.

The GPI was founded by Steve Killelea, an Australian technology entrepreneur and philanthropist. It is produced by the Institute for Economics and Peace, a global think tank dedicated to developing metrics to analyse peace and to quantify its economic benefits.

The Three Domains of Peacefulness

The Global Peace Index measures a country's level of Negative Peace using Three Domains of Peacefulness. It comprises 23 Indicators of the absence of violence or fear of violence:

The First Domain, Ongoing Domestic and International Conflict, uses Six Statistical Indicators to investigate the extent to which countries are involved in internal and external conflicts, as well as their role and duration of involvement in conflicts.

The Second Domain, Societal Safety and Security, using Eleven Indicators broadly assess it that evaluates the level of harmony or discord within a nation; The assertion is that low crime rates, minimal terrorist activity and violent demonstrations, harmonious relations with neighbouring countries, a stable political scene and a small proportion of the population being internally displaced or made refugees can be equated with peacefulness.

The Third Domain, Country's Militarisation, uses Six Indicators related to reflecting the link between a country's level of military build-up and access to weapons and its level of peacefulness, both domestically and internationally. Comparable data on military expenditure as a percentage of GDP and the number of armed service officers per head are gauged, as are financial contributions to UN peacekeeping missions.

India's Ranking in The Global Peace Index 2022 is 135 out of 163 countries.
