

How often does Narendra Modi travel – and how much of it is on BJP Work

S. No.	Prime Minister	Year	Travel Type		Countries / States Travelled	Total Time (Days)	Travel Time
			International / National	Official / Non-official* / Official+Non-official			Days	%
1	Narendra Modi	May 2014 to July 2018	Both	All types	-	1524	492	32.28
2	Manmohan Singh	2004 - 2009	Both	Official + Non-Official	-	1825	368	20.16
3	Manmohan Singh	2009 - 2014	Both	Official + Non-Official	-	1825	284	15.56
Contrasting Travel Habits of Narendra Modi and Manmohan Singh
4	Narendra Modi	May 2014 to July 2018 (in 50 months)	-	-	-	15 days - 5 times (spends 9.5 days a month travelling)	-	-
5	Manmohan Singh	2004 - 2014 (in 120 months)	-	-	-	15 days - 2 times (spent little over 5 days a month travelling)	-	-
6	Narendra Modi	May 2014 to July 2018 (In February 2017)	-	-	- during the run-up to the assembly elections in 5 states, he spent 15 days on the road campaigning in Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Manipur	-	-	-
7	Manmohan Singh	2004 - 2014 (between April and May, 2009)	-	-	- longest time spent campaigning during his tenure was his 2009 re-election campaign when he spent 15 days on the road	-	-	-
8	Narendra Modi	May 2014 to July 2018 (from January to March 2017)	-	-	- spent 26 days travelling on non-official work to states where elections were due	-	-	-
9	Manmohan Singh	2004 - 2014 (only in September 2007)	Most travelled in a month during his two terms was in September 2007 - the two long trips added up to a total of 18 days away from Delhi		- Brazil, Cuba and South Africa, and - Also made domestic visits to Maharashtra, Uttarakhand, Punjab and Haryana	-	-	-
10	Narendra Modi	May 2014 to July 2018 (in 50 months)	-	- 101 days for Non-official and - 12 days for Official+Non-official	-	-	-	-
11	Manmohan Singh	2004 - 2009 (in 60 months)	-	- 51 days for Non-official	-	-	-	-
12	Manmohan Singh	2009 - 2014 (in 60 months)	-	- 24 days for Non-official	-	-	-	-

Source: PMO Website, updated till July 27, 2018

*Non-official travel is categorised as work that is not related to governance. This typically happens around an election cycle. The PMO website defines visits as official or non-official. Only domestic visits are listed as non-official.